“ My Aunt Irene (aka Aunt Grandma Irene) as my children the late Evan Burczynski and Riley Morgan named after her ,Keeton and Colby called her. She was the absolute best. She was always there for me since my mom and Dad passed . She was not only my aunt and a Great Aunt to my kids but the Grandma my kids never got to meet!She was so full of life and energyvright to the very end. She could talk and we all loved listening to her stories. I'm so glad she stayed a part of my life and my childrens life. I remember when she came over to show my daughter and me how to bake pies. It was an all day affair. And boy oh boy could she bake . And not but 2 weeks or so ago she came down to our house i offered her a ride but just like the help i offered to help her clean and do her laundry she refused. But she brought one last homemade banana cream pie my fiance favorite . We visited w her and brad and brads parents and the kids. She talked and told stories. I think she knew and she was ready to be with my Uncle Al and my cousin Todd. I will miss you so much . Im sad you wont be at my wedding. Ill miss our talks on the phone which we always ended with i love you every time i love you Aunt Irene xxoo

“ Grandma, I miss you so much already.
I miss our conversations, our card games, teaching me to make all those dishes you made over the years. I promise I won't burn the chicken divine again :)

We were so blessed to have you for so long, and while I am beyond grief inside myself that your gone, I am so very thankful for all of the time I had with you.

You are the greatest Grandma one could ever have asked for. And you still are. I will speak to you, as I do Grandpa, always.

The testament of your life is the family and friends you've touched over your 93 years.

I love you so much. You waited so long to be with Grandpa and Todd again.

The testament of your life is the family you have seen before you.

Until It is my time to meet you again. I love you Grandma

“ Grandma Irene Morgan's legacy means so much to so many! When I think of her I am reminded of a woman who represents: Kindness, honesty, integrity, love, joy, strength and wisdom. She was a woman who loved deeply and fully. And she was so willing to shared her wisdom with pride and joy.

She taught me many of her yummy recipes that she took pride in preparing just so. I promise to take the same pride when I prepare them.

She taught me some nice and some not so nice polish words. And she would laugh her wonderful laugh when I would say them to her! I would say it was more of a sweet giggle!

She taught so many the game of cribbage. And let's just say, you had better be a good player because you never knew when you were going to be on her team. And not one of us could think of cribbage without saying in our heads "Ziltch" and smile.

She taught me what it means to be kind, honest, loving, joyful and strong. To be proud of who you are and to give everything you've got into everything you do.

Until we see you again sweet Grandma! I love you so much and will miss you!
