“ To Pam and Todd, with tremendous sadness I write to offer my condolences to you and your family. My heart still aches with sadness from the loss of my son last March.

No one can understand our pain and missing joy. Please know I don't presume to understand yours, as all of us parents who are experiencing such a crushing blow have our own personal unexplainable pain. May God grant you the grace and blessings so much needed in this unbelievable time.

Maybe; just maybe our sons are building and fixing things for the rest of us in Heaven. Your Big T and my TJ.

“ Holly, Matt and Bob...

We are sorry for your loss. "T" has touched everyones life in such a special way, that he will never be forgotten. He always had a smile on his face when he entered the room with his favorite saying "watch out here comes sexiness." Then came that light hearted laugh. He will always live on in our hearts and be in our prayers. We love you guys!

“ Holly-Todd-Bonnie & Family- Our thoughts and prayers are with you all at this incredibly hard time. Adam is your ANGEL now, watching over, protecting and comforting you in his journey with Our Dear Lord JESUS. May you somehow find strength and comfort in each other and know that his afterglow will never die. May he rest in peace and may you all somehow find peace in this tragic time until that joyous reunion when you meet again.

“ Pam & Todd & family - I can't find the words that express how my heart goes out to all of you. You can be sure that many people have happy memories of Adam. Everyone was always glad to see him, because he cared about people. I'll always remember him at our family gatherings where my nephews and nieces were having a great time at the pool, or a birthday party. He'll always be a part of all those gatherings to come. Much love - Aunt Brenda, Nashville TN
