

Candace A DelGatto

January 15, 1966 - January 27, 2018

Candace A. DelGatto

Of North Tonawanda, January 27, 2018

Daughter of the late Anthony and Nancy DelGatto.

Beloved mother of Amanda and Mathew Coran; nana of Levi Coran; also survived by three sisters, many cousins, nieces, nephews and adopted children who love her very much.

Candace was a hard-working woman who loved her family.

To know Candy was to love her. Her true beauty shined inside and out.

Candace's smile could light up the room, her soul shined brighter than any star.

She will be missed by so many, but her soul will live in our hearts forever and always.

Online guest registry at www.Wattengel.com

Tribute Wall

“ She was such a great person to be around. Always there that u could talk to. She was like another mom to me such a sweet women. My prayers go out to my best friend Amanda and the entire family

Kelsey Callari - January 31, 2018 at 11:42 AM

“ Our Candy,my youngest sister,I shall miss dearly. We had so many fun and wonderful times together. If you seen Candy then I was there or visa versa. My partner and side kick has gone to heaven. Will remember my sissy with love,respect,and faith we will kick up our heels up together again some day. Dance with each other to,"Brown Eyed Girl". I have know her,has er entire life. A vacancy has taken place in my heart. Our times together on holidays are priceless. Our adventures on Halloween will be memories for me to cherish. We always had the most fun. We spend Canal Fest together every year. It was one of our many things we'd saved for each other. My favorite memory was of us coming back from Ton.side on the River Rd.bridge and we decided to take the hill to get back to the festival.So I say we can do it. She says ok. You go first. I do and She follows. Now here are two middle aged women half in the bag,trying to get down this hill near Snyder machine shop. Candy is sliding on her butt and I am trying not to loose grip or we both are goners. Laughing the whole way. Then we look and see. 2 bicycle cops are watching us,laughing as much as we was. Caught,but with comedy. We still laugh about that. May you rest peaceful my sissy. May your memory be enternal. For me it shall be. Love you forever. Candace Ann. Your loving sister,Sue.

sue coran - January 31, 2018 at 07:34 AM