“ Joelle you had all the potential in the world to do anything you wanted. But just as everyone else life experiences can push aside our true potential. You eventually found your way and for that i am proud of you. Unfortunately, you were not given enough time to do more. It is ok because you can now do everything you ever dreamed about doing! The world will miss you and those who did not know you will regret not knowing you. Spread your wings and experience your happiness!

“ Joelle and I met as teenagers, we didn't always get a long so well but I still feel a deep sadness that she is gone. I always wished that she would turn her life around because she was such a beautiful and intelligent girl, she just chose the wrong path. From what I hear she was trying to do just that and her life was taken away before she could. I hope that she has found peace where ever she may be. God bless her and her family.
