“ Although I can't be there for the celebration of Eric's life, my thoughts and prayers are with all of you. As Eric's aunt, when he was younger my husband, John, and I spent time with Eric and his family. He and his Uncle were very close and got along so well. I remember the time that Eric saw some pies being cooled on a ledge (I think it was at a church) and he took a stick and knocked them all off the ledge. Then he ran away. He is a wonderful person and will be missed by all. He is now with God and his father and uncle. Until we meet Eric I love you.
