“ My dear baby sister, How my heart is broken. I just want to scream. I miss you so, your kind heart the love you gave your family. You where such a caring person who thought of others and left herself for last. Who gave up her life to take care of our mother. I pray you are with dad and timmy. You where an angel here and now your angel in heaven.lord take care of our precious sister

“ My dear baby sister. My heart is broken and aches that you are no longer with us. You were taken from us way too soon. But I am assured that God has called you home to be with Him as part of his Master Plan. I don't have to like it but I am comforted knowing that you are not suffering any longer and we will all be together again. I love you and miss you and will always have a whole in my heart while we are apart. I will always have fond memories of you over the year: you as a little girl licking ashes from your finger from the ashtray, playing in the yard, writing and talking to you when I was away with the military or living in Florida, recently playing board games or just talking about life, and you still showing me how strong and caring you are. Reminding me to be patient and relax. I just wish we had more time together here on earth. I love you and miss you Gina!!

“ My one an only (aunt) Gina you were truly the best there ain't a single person in this world that could ever replace you.. my heart is just Torn to Pieces there is this really deep hole that can't ever be filled. You have always been there for me no matter what kind a problem I was having.. I knew when I was feeling depressed and down I could always come and talk to you and you know what to say to make me feel better.. and now that my heart is in so much pain and I are just so damn depressed head you are not here I just want to talk to you so bad right now and how much I just want to hear your voice... you were just the most unselfish person in this world you always cared about everybody else and never once thought about yourself even when you were sick you were more worried about us I would give anything in the world to bring you back. but I know God has brought you home for some reason what that reason is I am not sure but God always has a plan in life sometimes his plans are not always Fair but I know I can't be selfish because now it's his time to spend with you and he will take care of you and watch over you now I will always cherish all the moments an time we spent together from growing up as a little boy and growing up into a young adult. I will never forget how you have always been there for me but now it's your time to rest. But I am so thankful let the good Lord let you stay on this Earth long enough to see me get married and have my first child and I am so thankful that you were able to meet my little angel (Natalie). So when she grows up I will tell her how much of an amazing woman you really were and how much she would had loved you . I know you are at peace now so I pray and Hope that you fly high with the angels and look over me as I go through this hard time in my life I feel like half my life has been torn away from me you meant so much to me I loved you so much and I would do anything in the world for you. I'm going to try my hardest to stay strong for you.. I keep telling myself that this is just a dream and I just want to wake up an see you here.. you will never the forgotten by me and I know it's going to take me a long time to heal from this. But it's true what they say the Good Die Young.. even though you are not physically here anymore and you are up in heaven I will always keep you in my heart and I will always

talk highly of you.. and even though you are in heaven now (I WILL SEE YOU AGAIN) soon when the good Lord says it's my time. And I want you to rest in peace I don't want you to have to worry especially about Grandma I will always look after her and do what I have to do to help her so you don't have to worry I just want you to be a piece.. this is your time to enjoy your eternal life.. I love you forever and ever and ever and ever aunt Gina I love you and miss you so much.. love your favorite nephew Robert and I know I was your favorite and that's something that will help me healing time.. you fly high you sweet angel... hugs and kisses from all of us love Robert Katie lina-Mae an Natalie “ My baby sister how my heart is broken, how I'm missing you. Your caring heart, your love for your family ,your strength and always thinking of others. Unselfish person who put herself last. I want to scream i dont understand why god choose you so early in life to take you, but God must have other plans for an angel like. I hope your at peace no more pain. I know you are with dad and timmy. My heart will never heal from the emptiness of you, but I know your at peace. Love your brother william
