“ Cousin Jim was a very loving and caring person. We'll always remember his good sense of humor and how much he valued family. We also admired his talents and skills, evidenced by the work he did finishing the cottage he and his father had started on Lake Ontario.

Jim loved his family, and Kathy was a wonderful, caring wife to him. We'll also always remember and love his Mom and Dad, who, like Jim and Kathy, always reached out to others.

Jim, you'll always be in our hearts. Love, Dave & Carol

“ I was lucky enough to share the first third of my life with Jim, as a friend and next-door neighbor. We "terrorized" Niagara St. and vicinity together for many years and Jim, his parents, grandparents and great-gram Clementino were great people and always will live in my memory till I join them again. I couldn't have asked for a better friend growing up and am comfortable that Jimmy is in a better place! God Bless Jim, and I look forward to seeing you again and hope we can throw around some snowballs, sticks, and baseballs again. I wish comfort to the family.

“ My contact with Jim was mainly through Jamie having had her as a student and ultimately a friend. I have always felt that you can tell the character of parents by the character of their children. If Jamie is any indication, then there is no doubt that Jim was a loving, caring husband, father, and grandfather and will be sadly missed by everyone he touched. Jim and his family are in my prayers.
