“ I'd like to share a poem I wrote in honor of Gram.

*My gram was definitely one of a kind,
She had no problem saying anything on her mind.*

*She loved to eat all kinds of sweets,
Donuts, Hershey kisses and cookies were her favorite treats.*

*Taking her to the casino was always a fun trip,
All the valet guys loved her witty lip.*

*She wasn't shy by any means,
And had the same personality from way back in my teens.*

*Her big glasses were her signature look,
And now that she's gone they have me really shook.*

*She always had her purse, lipstick and flip phone,
I loved taking her to McDonald's for a vanilla ice cream cone.*

*Shopping for clothes and hairspray was always fun,
She'd always say "How much do I owe you?" when I was done.*

*She really only ate sweet potatoes and mashed,
And any type of treat in her room she had stashed.*

*Coffee was really all she would drink,
Tons of cream and no sugar or she would put up a stink.*

*She loved when I would call her just to say hi,
I already miss our conversations I'm not going to lie.*

*I would tell her what channel to turn on to watch sports,
She would tell me everything that was happening on the fields or on the courts.*

*She had so many expressions over the years,
"You're out to lunch and five miles from the diner" brought many to tears.*

*She was so grateful when I would go to visit or just call,
And was so happy when I wrote every Bills' game on her calendar on the wall.*

*I'm blessed to have had her in my life for this long,
I've never met a 97 year old who was so damn strong.*

*"You know I love you" she would always tell me,
I got to see a side of her others never got to see.*

*I thought she would live forever I really did,
Until the lockdown and circumstances of this virus Covid.*

*She lost her will to live as each day passed,
And I can't believe my visit with her was the last.*

*I can't blame her for calling it quits,
She was ready to go as she admits.*

*Seeing her smile and being happy I was there,
The way she went out is just not fair.*

*She respectfully left us on her own terms,
And wanted to be with Gramps she had previously confirmed.*

*The man upstairs was ready, as she would say,
And I will think of her each and every day.*

*She would always say "Goodbye Dolly,"
And that I will forever and always be.*

*RIP Marjorie "Marge" Brooks-Trapasso,
You meant more to me than you or most will ever know.*

My beautiful Aunt Marge Trapasso was indeed one of a kind. So sorry that I never got to meet any of her immediate family in New York. I loved her and her whit and beauty from the time I was a little girl...too bad we moved to California when I was 16. Saw her there once with Jay, and Kit, and unfortunately lost touch. R.I.P. beautiful Aunt! P.S. my Daddy Peter Trapasso was Uncle Dominick's brother.
