“ Mark. There is truly no one else like him. He was so extremely talented, generous, hilarious, empathetic, encouraging, fabulous, smart, loving and genuine. Words can't describe what he meant to me. I wish I could tell it to him just one last time how much we all love you... 🥹

I would thank him for all the times he stuck up for me and made so much effort to help me. And for doing my economics homework the entire year. Even though I completely failed the exam I still passed the class because he aced all the take home essays. He showed me so much creativity, especially in doing hair.

Mark taught me so many important life skills one being the Lords precious prayer and another how to dance like Beyoncé. He loved to liven up the room with loud music and colorful nail polish on our dog Barkley nails.

Whenever I watch Matilda or Rent I will definitely be thinking of him.

🥹 Mark was able to make anyone feel confident even on their worst day. He was so vibrant. I spent the last year of his life praying for him more than I ever had. It hurts me so much that Mark struggled for so much of his life. I Pray he is at peace in the Lords arms 🥹. I'm sorry this is also written in like a 3rd grade level. It probably would've helped if I did my homework instead. I love you Mark. 🥹

P.s. adopt me miss Honey!

“ My uncle Mark, my godfather. I will miss you. You had a way of making us all feel special, always ready with a huge smile, kind words, or a story to make us all laugh. You always asked us about our days, what we were doing. Always included us. You were so generous, never forgetting to give me gifts even when I knew you didn't have it. I will always cherish the memories we shared, the lessons you taught me, and the love you gave so freely. I'll never forget your smile. Watch over me, guide me and protect me. Uncle Mark, thank you for everything. I will miss you and love you forever.
