“ To the sweetest kindest man I ever knew I had a dream about you last night and went to call you and learned this news this morning. I wish I could be there for the service to pay my respect because you deserve it however I am way down here in South Carolina. You will be greatly missed. I hope you and your wife are having the best of times. With all the love in the universe Tina Lewandowski

My first thought upon hearing of Mike's passing was that he and Karen are together again. I think of my cousin, Karen, often, and of how Mike and their family have lived so many years together without her by their sides. You have all had the comfort and joy of each other's love to lift and surround you. Lean on that love now, as you say goodbye to your Father. Until you meet again. God Bless.
