“ Dear Dick, Liz, Katy, and Family,
Cherished memories of growing up across the street from the Siller family, four boys and one special girl, will always be with me. "Those were the days," Rose would often say when we reminisced about the fifties, our dreams and families. Through the years Rosemary sent me several beautiful cards and books. She signed them from "Your Hurlock sister." I am and will be forever grateful for this childhood bond and to have known Rosemary with her enormous heart and generosity of spirit. She will be missed without measure. Condolences and love to the family. - Theresa and Bill Wyatt

“ I already had a best friend when I met Rosemary, but Rosemary became like a mother and another best friend to me. She was the other half of my brain and supported everything I did except when I was being stupid. She saved my life more than once. I couldn't wait to talk to her almost every day. She was precious. So sorry for the family.
